OUR SPECIAL APPRECIATION IS EXTENDED TO SPONSORS WHO MAKE THE PROGRAM POSSIBLE:

BURROUGHS WELLCOME FUND

Burroughs Wellcome Fund — The Burroughs Wellcome Fund (BWF) is an independent private foundation dedicated to advancing the biomedical sciences by supporting research and other scientific and educational activities. Within this broad mission, BWF seeks to help scientists early in their careers develop as independent investigators and to advance fields in the biomedical sciences that are undervalued or in need of particular encouragement. BWF was founded in 1955 as the corporate foundation of Burroughs Wellcome Co., the U.S. branch of the Wellcome pharmaceutical enterprise, based in the United Kingdom. In 1993, BWF received a $400 million gift from the Wellcome Trust to become a fully independent foundation. BWF became the flagship sponsor for the North Carolina Teacher of the Year program in 2013.

Flow Honda in Winston Salem — After 50 years in the retail automobile business, Flow Companies continue to be defined by three simple principles:

- A covenant with our customers to be a place that keeps its promises and is worthy of their trust.

- A community of people who work together towards a common vision.
- A commitment to work towards the common good of every city where we do business.

Don Flow, CEO, of Flow Honda in Winston-Salem, is donating $2500 to the North Carolina Teacher of the Year Program. Support of the recognition program highlights the company's appreciation and commitment to public education and teachers across our state.

Lenovo — Lenovo is committed to supporting educators. Focused on a bold vision to deliver smarter technology for all, we are developing world-changing technologies that create a more inclusive, trustworthy, and sustainable digital society. As a global industry leader in the education market, Lenovo is committed to making a difference in support of teachers, students, classrooms, and education through related initiatives focused on community investments and collaborative partnerships. With over 3,000 employees at its Morrisville headquarters and Guilford County distribution center, Lenovo is proud to call North Carolina home.

Go Global NC — Go Global NC connects North Carolina and the world. For over 40 years, our international education and training programs have empowered North Carolinians with the skills, understanding, connections, and knowledge to succeed in a global economy. Go Global NC is proud to be part of the world-class, 17-campus University of North Carolina system.

NC State Athletics — The mission of the NC State University Department of Athletics is to prepare student-athletes to compete at the highest level and to inspire them to be leaders now and for the future. NC State Athletics provides the best environment for students to achieve their athletic, academic, and personal aspirations as well as provides support for the professional development of our coaches and staff, all within the role of the greater institutional relationships to the University.

No Kid Hungry NC — No Kid Hungry North Carolina is working to break down the barriers that keep kids from healthy food. They help connect our state's children — including the almost 900,000 public school students who qualify for free-or-reduced price meals — to effective but underutilized federal nutrition programs such as school breakfast, summer meals, and afterschool meals. Our organization was formed in 2011 in partnership with state leaders and the national No Kid Hungry campaign, which is a program of the nonprofit Share Our Strength. In 2014, No Kid Hungry NC became an initiative based at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Center for Health Promotion and Disease Prevention. Learn more about nutrition's connection to academic success at NoKidHungryNC.org.

Bojangles Restaurants — Bojangles Restaurants began as the dream of Jack Fulk and Richard Thomas, two veteran restaurant operators who predicted rising consumer demand for good food served in a quick-service environment. They based their concept on three attributes: distinctive flavor, high-quality products made from scratch, and a festive restaurant design with friendly service. We believe not only in serving great food but serving our communities. As part of our community relations program, we believe that literacy impacts all individual's ability to make positive contributions to society. It is relevant to both our community and crew to form future leaders. It is our goal to make an impact in the Tar Heel state!

NC TEACHER of the YEAR PROGRAM

Since 1970, North Carolina has recognized outstanding teachers through the Teacher of the Year program. The mission of the North Carolina Teacher of the Year Program is to promote the profession through advocacy and support while recognizing quality teaching professionals implementing best practices within classrooms across North Carolina. The North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, along with its sponsors recognize outstanding teachers at the school, local, regional, and state levels. First, individuals are chosen to represent their respective schools as Teacher of the Year, then they advance to compete at the district level. Similarly, individual charter schools nominate Teachers of the Year who participate in a selection process facilitated by the Office of Charter Schools. Charter schools are clustered together to form the ninth region of the state.

After the district and charter school nomination processes are completed, the Charter School Teacher of the Year joins the eight Regional Teachers of the Year as a finalist for State Teacher of the Year. This selection process is facilitated in each region by Regional Education Facilitators representing the Office of District & Regional Support at the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.

2023 TEACHER OF THE YEAR STATE SELECTION COMMITTEE

Naming the individual who will represent North Carolina and serve as a spokesperson for all teachers in our state is a challenging task. The state selection committee members are chosen based on their dynamic public record in support of education. The North Carolina Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Education take pride in celebrating the most innovative and effective public school educators in our state.

I love taking the opportunity to curate curiosity. Students need the space and permission to explore ideas that are new to them. Finding information and staying curious creates lifelong learning skills.
