The GOAL

Every student in North Carolina has access to a highly effective teacher who can help them meet their highest potential and successfully prepare them for life after graduation.

The PROBLEM

For decades, data has shown teachers feel undervalued and under-supported. In addition, testing barriers and bureaucracy have prevented talented candidates from entering and staying in the profession.

Teachers are the difference-makers for students' success. The single best thing we can do to improve education in North Carolina is to focus on improving the experience of educators - from recruitment to preparation to retention.

The SOLUTION

The North Carolina Pathways to Excellence for Teaching Professionals proposal reimagines teachers' pathways, supports and licensure in a way that:

- Offers individual advancement and professional growth opportunities for teachers.
- Encourages the best teachers to lead from the classroom.
- Invites a more diverse population into the teaching profession.
- Provides compensation that grows as teachers expand their professional impact.

The IMPACT

This reform is not only important for our teachers and our students—but also for North Carolina's education system and economy—as teaching is the profession that makes all other professions possible.
North Carolina Pathways to Excellence for Teaching Professionals

Proposal Overview

Entering the Profession

Inviting more qualified candidates into the profession through multiple proven pathways.

- Traditional Pathway: Traditional educator preparation programs (EPPs) are state-approved programs, most of which are contained within schools of education at institutions of higher education.

  Successful traditional pathway completers who pass content and pedagogy requirements at the time of application for licensure may enter at License 3.

- Residency Pathway: Individuals entering the profession with a bachelor's degree but no pedagogical training must affiliate with an EPP in order to meet the requirements of the license.
