

It's a Wrap: Hoagie Fold

Starting with the paper in a diamond shape in front of you, fold the bottom corner up so that the point touches the middle.

Set your hoagie/sub roll so that the edge of the bread touches the bottom of the paper. Fold one side up and over the bread.

Fold the bottom corner up, then roll the sandwich towards the remaining corner, so the flap is underneath the sandwich.

The finished result will show the end of the sandwich and its ingredients!

That's a wrap!

You can also use this same technique for hot subs and insulated foil wraps.

HACK: The first step can be done in advance and stacked in preparation for the execution of service/wrapping after sandwiches are assembled.
