2010 WELLS FARGO REGIONAL PRINCIPALS OF THE YEAR

2010 WELLS FARGO NORTH CAROLINA PRINCIPAL OF THE YEAR

Jan King

Glenn C. Marlow Elementary School
Henderson County Schools

Jan King received an Associate of Arts degree from Peace College in 1990, a Bachelor of Science degree from Western Carolina University in 1992, and a Masters of School Administration from Gardner Webb University in 2007. In her career, she has served as a classroom teacher, high school instructional coach, assistant principal and then as the principal of Glenn Marlow Elementary School in Henderson County. In 2003, King also earned the designation of Teacher of the Year for Henderson County Public Schools, and her aptitude for effective teaching has served her school community well in her role as the instructional leader.

Henderson County Superintendent David Jones stated, "Mrs. King is an effective leader because of her character, knowledge, and relationships. She has the ability to communicate and build relationships across a wide spectrum. It is clear that she is genuinely concerned about the well-being of her students and staff. Mrs. King gives people hope, and when you give them hope, you give them a future."

Dr. Jan Webster, Director of the Western Region Education Service Alliance noted, "Creative, engaging, and innovative are strong attributes for Jan King. Whether in the classroom or as an administrator, I have seen her engage students and teachers with innovative practices with a definite focus on the curriculum."

King shared, "In the role of Wells Fargo Principal of the Year, I have had the privilege to serve as an ambassador and advocate for public schools in our state. I will forever treasure the experiences and relationships that I have forged on this journey."
