State Board of Education Vision: Every public school student in North Carolina will be empowered to accept academic challenges, prepared to pursue their chosen path after graduating high school, and encouraged to become lifelong learners with the capacity to engage in a globally-collaborative society.

State Board of Education Mission: The mission of the North Carolina State Board of Education is to use its constitutional authority to guard and maintain the right of a sound, basic education for every child in North Carolina Public Schools.

The March wind is not the only thing gusting. New legislation continues to swirl and committee meetings to consider these bills fill the legislative calendar. So far, over 850 bills have been filed this session with at least 175 of those bills affecting K-12 public education. One of the recent K-12 education bills to be filed is S387 Excellent Public Schools Act of 2021 sponsored by Senators Berger, Ballard, and Lee. This act will modify how the NC Read to Achieve program is implemented to ensure statewide reading proficiency by third grade.

Also churning, is the FY 21-23 budget. Governor Cooper unveiled his budget recommendations and the Senate will take the next step to present their budget in the coming weeks. Before the flurry of budget negotiations, the House and Senate are taking a Spring Break next week to spend time in their districts.

District Visits and Voices continue down the road. These tours demonstrate how the districts are going #beyondbnormalcy to make a difference in their schools and communities.

Truly . . .

“State of the Shire”— Community Affairs Update

On the road again! NC Superintendent Catherine Truitt’s team of advisors and senior leaders visited Union County Public Schools, Catawba County Schools, Cherokee County Schools, Currituck County Schools, Macon County Schools, Vance County Schools, Pamlico County Schools, Polk County Schools, Mt. Airy City Schools, and Elkin City Schools as part of the agency “District and Voices” Tour to learn about innovative programs, success stories and opportunities to support our North Carolina Public Schools.

The team continues to travel through March to the state’s eight education regions, touring 16 districts. The visits also provide the Superintendent’s team with opportunities to share updates about her three key priorities (literacy, testing and accountability human capital) and explore ways to build better communications with district, school and community stakeholders.

Catawba County Schools with Superintendent Dr. Matt Stover and Senator Dean Proctor

Senator Dean Proctor, leaders from the State Board of Education, and NC Superintendent Catherine Truitt's team of advisors visited our schools to learn about our district's successes, innovations, and future needs. Our special guests toured Sherrills Ford Elementary, Mill Creek Middle School, and Maiden High School to get a "sampling" of the great things we are doing here. We wish they could have seen ALL of our schools because the excitement inside our school buildings is PALPABLE!

Thank you to our state leaders for truly wanting to listen and learn from some of the greatest educators and students in the state!

Check out the photos... you'll see some of the Tweets from the leaders who visited us yesterday and how excited they were by the kinds of things we are doing here to #EngageInspireEmpower our students and teachers.... while #MakingEducationBetter for #MyCatawbaCounty!

Cherokee County Schools with Superintendent Dr. Jeana Conley
Cherokee County Schools visit to Andrews Middle School with Principal Ruby Cutshaw, Director Julie Higdon, the DPI Western Regional Case Manager, Julie Pittman, Special Advisor to the Superintendent for Educator Engagement, Maureen Stover, the 2020 NC Teacher of the Year, and Freebird McKinney, the Director of Government and Community Affairs for DPI/SBE. We participate in a very insightful discussion about Cherokee County Schools’ initiative “The Collaborative”, a dynamic teacher leadership program.

Elkin City Schools with Dr. Myra Cox, Superintendent
When Dr. Myra Cox, Superintendent of Elkin City Schools began the #districtvisitsvoices team’s day with “we cannot control the direction of the wind, but we can adjust our sails,” we knew right away it was a #GDTBABE (Great Day to Be a Bucking Elk.) This leadership team, and the multitude of exceptional educators we listened and learned from, had truly “charted a course” of team-focused, student and family centered, collaborative, and intentional learning opportunities for the Elkin community reflected by #ecsgoingplaces and this district’s STORY!

Thank you, Dr. Cox, to you and your team for TEACHING us the value of our smaller, rural districts, and the mighty force they are in your community, and across North Carolina. We are eternally grateful and will return, as this is just the beginning of our “friendship” with Elkin City. Our team, Superintendent Truitt, and the State Board sees YOU, all of YOU- Sawubona... it is ALWAYS a “Great Day to Be Bucking Elk!”

Macon County Schools with Superintendent Dr. Chris Baldwin
Touring The Nantahala School with Superintendent Dr. Chris Baldwin, the DPI Western Regional Case Manager, Dr. Jeremy Gibbs, the Special Advisor to the Superintendent for Educator Engagement, Julie Pittman, and Maureen Stover, the 2020 North Carolina Teacher of the Year. Here, Dr. Baldwin is showing us the same exact classroom where he took "Shop" and where students of the school had just finished a beautiful table that sold within 20 minutes for $500.

Polk County Schools with Superintendent Aaron Greene
Visiting a Polk County Pre-K classroom with Teacher of the Year, Laura Jane Howard, and the DPI Western Regional Case Manager, Dr. Jeremy Gibbs. Engaging, interactive, and memorable, the DPI Office of Early Literacy Team, led by Dr. Amy Rhyne, had a very insightful visit listening and learning to Superintendent Greene's leadership team and their success implementing the Pre-K program in Polk County.
All ABOARD, the learning train, at Polk Central Elementary School, learning about the Pre-K programs available to the Polk County Schools community. Pictured here are members of the DPI Office of Early Learning, Maureen Stover, the 2020 NC Teacher of the Year, and Freebird McKinney, Director of Government and Community Affairs, for DPI/SBE.

Union County Schools with Superintendent Dr. Andrew Houlihan and Representative David Willis
DPI Deputy Superintendent, Dr. Bev Emory, during the "District Visits and Voices" tour of East Elementary School, talking with students, and meeting Senor Huesos.

At Marvin Ridge High School, Representative Willis had the opportunity to hear a live performance from Union County's Teacher of the Year, and Music Program Director, Mr. Dareion Malone.
