INTRODUCTION

This document contains class specification that have been developed in compliance with General Statutes 115C-12(15) which authorizes the State Board of Education "...to develop position evaluation descriptions covering those positions in local school administrative units for which certification by the State Board of Education is not normally a prerequisite. The position evaluation descriptions required in this subdivision are to be used by local boards of education as the basis for assignment of noncertified employees to an appropriate pay grade in accordance with salary grades adopted by the State Board of Education." The purpose of this document is to assist Local Education Agencies with the tools and skills to develop and manage a comprehensive, equitable personnel management system. As noted in the law. These specifications are to be used by LEAs as the basis for assignment of noncertified employees to an appropriate pay grade in accordance with salary grades and ranges adopted by the State Board of Education. These specifications are broadly written by design to encompass all employees within a given class. Furthermore, these specifications should be used to guide each LEA in writing individual job descriptions.

The class specifications contained in this document may be used for many purposes, such as:

- Providing information for recruitment standards,
- Providing documentation of work requiring an employee or employees,
- Providing guidance for training needs,
- Providing background for the description of an individual position,
- Providing a foundation for performance evaluations, and
- Providing a basis for determining appropriate salaries for individual positions.

The class specification is not to be perceived as a job description. The class specification does not outline the essential functions of a particular job as required by the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act. It will describe the work and employee characteristics to be found in a group of positions, perhaps in different locations that are sufficiently alike to require the same worker characteristics and to warrant the same salary range. The class specification defines multiple positions and should be interpreted by its totality.

The class specification design contains the following parts:

1. TITLE: The title is a brief and descriptive designation of the type of work to be represented.
2. NATURE OF THE WORK: This is a general definition of the work found in the class and introduces the elements of the work distinguishing the various levels within the class. The definition will focus on six factors, which include: variety and scope of work, mental application, problem solving, consequences of error, supervision received, and supervision given.
3. ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK: Examples of work performed in the class are provided to illustrate and amplify the general definition under the Nature of Work.

4. KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS, AND ABILITIES: Brief statements in this section use descriptive terms to show the scope and degree of the needed trait. Knowledge is a range of practical information or understanding of a subject, theory, principal, and procedures that must be possessed to perform the work successfully. Skill is the ability to apply knowledge, and ability is the capacity to acquire skill.
5. SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE: A brief statement or statements of the background of experience and training needed to allow the worker to be successful are included.
6. SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS: This section is used only when licenses or other special certifications are mandatory.

In addition to serving as a basis for setting salary ranges for groups of similar positions, the class specifications can provide a starting point for the development of job descriptions. Job descriptions describe individual positions and include the complexity and uniqueness of the position. By including information about the functions that are essential for the job, the job description permits the school system to comply with employee rights legislation, especially the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Finally, class specifications can provide a basis for developing performance instruments. The development of evaluation instruments should ensue after the workability of the class specification has been ascertained. The LEA personnel can then decide whether separate or generic appraisal instruments would meet the needs of employers and employees.

BRAILLIST

Salary Grade 59

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class is responsible for transcribing materials into braille and tutoring students in the use of braille in reading, writing and arithmetic. The employee receives general assignments and follows precedent courses of action. The employee is expected to resolve problems except complex ones. Errors can be easily corrected at a cost of some loss of learning time for students. Limited supervision is received from the teacher and principal.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

Transcribes classroom and supplementary materials into braille.

Instructs students in learning and using the braille and Nemoth code.

Checks and corrects students' work done in braille.

Prepares printed copies of student work for the teacher and parents.

Reports students' progress to the teacher.

Attends IEP meetings and other meetings in which educational programs for visually impaired students are planned and materials are reviewed.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

Considerable knowledge of correct English usage, spelling, grammar and punctuation.

Working knowledge of effective ways of dealing with students.

Skill in transcribing.

Ability to establish positive relationships with students.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Certification of proficiency in braille transcribing by the Library of Congress is preferred.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

CABINETMAKER

Salary Grade 61

NATURE OF WORK

An individual in this class performs skilled carpentry work in building and repairing wooden cabinets, counters, bookshelves, desks and other high grade wood articles. Work assignments are usually in the form of rough sketches or oral instructions. Unusual assignments are accompanied by blueprints or detailed instructions. The employee is frequently expected to develop exact work designs from minimal description of the object. Errors may be costly in loss of materials and work hours. Work is checked infrequently and general supervision is received.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Studies instructions accompanying assignment.
- Prepares specifications for requested product, as needed.
- Plans materials needed.
- Marks outline or dimensions on materials.
- Cuts and shapes parts from wood stock and synthetics.
- Matches materials for color, grain or texture.
- Trims component parts to ensure snug fit.
- Inserts screws, or glues, fits or clamps parts to assemble the article.
- Sands and scrapes surfaces to prepare article for finishing.
- Installs hardware such as hinges, catches and drawer pulls.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Considerable knowledge of a variety of hand tools and machines used in cabinet making.
- Skill in operation and use of these various tools and machines.
- Skill in conceptualizing an article from limited information.
- Skill in matching materials.
- Ability to work from blueprint.
- Ability to adapt a schema to size, etc. of desired article.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Considerable woodworking experience with a large variety of cabinetwork or an equivalent combination of education and experience.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

CARPENTER I

Salary Grade 57

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class performs simple tasks in the field of carpentry. The appearance and finish of work produced at this level is not critical. Examples of such work are building and repairing frameworks, scaffolds, supports, and simple wooden articles. The employee is given specific instructions for work to be done. A higher level employee is available to assist in solving any problems that may arise. Since work is closely checked while in progress, errors of any serious consequence are unlikely to occur. Direct supervision is given to employees at this level.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Gathers materials to be used.
- Measures and marks materials for cutting.
- Cuts and drills wood and other materials using hand and power tools.
- Joins materials with nails, screws or glue.
- Checks accuracy of work with levels, rulers and measuring tapes.
- Fits and nails sheathing on outer walls and roofs in preparation for boards.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Some knowledge of methods of carpentry work.
- Some skill in using tools to cut and join wooden materials.
- Ability to follow simple written instructions.
- Ability to follow oral instructions with little need for repetition.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Some aptitude for carpentry work demonstrated in prior work, school experience or personal activities.

This position has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

CARPENTER II

Salary Grade 61

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class performs all levels of carpentry with emphasis on finish work where appearance is as important as the integrity of structure. Much of the work is performed with oral or roughly sketched, general directions, requiring the application of standard practices. Unusual assignments are accompanied by detailed directions. The employee is expected to resolve most problems that may arise. Difficult problems are cleared through discussion with the crew leader or supervisor. Errors in work can result in costly waste of materials and have the potential for resulting in human injury. Limited supervision is received as the work is usually only reviewed upon completion.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Determines type of materials needed.
- Gauges quantities of materials needed.
- Requests materials projected to be needed.
- Marks cutting and assembly points on materials.
- Cuts and shapes material to prescribed directions.
- Assembles prepared materials.
- Verifies accuracy of product by measuring alignment and fit.
- Installs and repairs glass, as needed.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

Considerable knowledge of the use of a variety of tools such as power saw, drill press, planer, mortising machine and jointer.

- Working knowledge of the methods and techniques used in carpentry.
- Working knowledge of applicable building codes and specifications.
- Skill in the use of hand and power tools.
- Ability to read and work from most blueprints, sketches and drawings.
- Ability to make exacting measurements.
- Ability to make accurate arithmetic calculations.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Considerable, and progressively advanced experience in carpentry or an equivalent combination of education and experience.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

CARPENTRY CREW LEADER

Salary Grade 63

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class performs skilled carpentry work and provides leadership to carpenters in a woodworking shop or a small group of carpenters in the repair, alteration and construction of wooden structures. Assignments are received in the form of written work orders. The employee is expected to develop and initiate work methods. Most work problems are solved personally or by guiding subordinates in developing a solution. Errors can lead to expensive loss of work hours and materials. Structural errors may lead to injury to the employee or others. Limited supervision is received as work is rarely reviewed in progress but evaluated through results. The employee serves as a lead worker in providing directions to crew members.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Studies work orders.
- Develops and issues work assignments.
- Coordinates work flows.
- Provides on-the-job instruction.
- Observes performance of other carpenters.
- Reports outstanding or unsatisfactory work and behavior to supervisors.
- Checks materials and supplies to ensure sufficient amounts on hand.
- Requisition materials and supplies as needed.
- Performs duties of skilled carpentry.
- Keeps time, material and work records.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Skill in the use of hand and power tools.
- Ability to read and work from plans, blueprints and sketches.
- Ability to maintain accurate records.
- Ability to project accurately materials to be needed.
- Ability to plan, organize and direct work.
- Ability to communicate orally in an effective manner.
- Ability to establish productive working relationships.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Considerable experience in carpentry with some experience in leading or managing other people.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

CARPENTER SUPERVISOR

Salary Grade 65

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class supervises the entire carpentry operation in a school system that includes a variety of work activities in a variety of settings. The employee is expected to manage completely an activity from the initiation of a reported need or to recognize independently other needed work and complete it. Only major activities require approval from higher authority. Problems from work sites and those arising in other areas of responsibility are expected to be solved independently with only rare and unique ones passed to higher level. Errors may be serious and result in considerable loss of time, costly work hours and materials. Only general supervision is received. The employee is expected to work independently. Supervision is given to carpenters employed in the school system.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Prioritizes carpentry work.
- Prepares time schedules for initiation and completion of work.
- Prepares plans and sketches to accompany work orders.
- Determines work hours for individual carpentry activities and assigns carpenters accordingly.
- Estimates needs for materials and orders them in bulk.

OFFICE SUPPORT V

Salary Grade 63

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this position performs a wide variety of duties as an assistant to a top level administrator, or is responsible for a small non-instructional program, or manages the processing of a high volume of complex but homogeneous records and reports. Most actions are directed by the general policies and precedents of the system or by own judgment. The work requires a high degree of resourcefulness. Within the limits of the employee's assigned authority, the employee is expected to analyze and resolve problems independently, or on rare occasions consult with higher authority on matters that may have wide reaching impact. With the degree of exercise of independence in this class, an error could result in significantly reduced operational efficiency for other staff members or substantial public embarrassment or inconvenience. The employee operates under general directions. The employee is expected to plan and organize work methods to produce the assigned outcomes.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Identifies sources of a variety of information, prepares comprehensive reports, abstracts of factual data or speeches and documents.

- Prepares documents proposing and projecting major capital outlay and other expenditures.

- Oversees the installation of record maintenance throughout the school system.

- Reviews incoming correspondence to be informed of supervisor's needs and activities, to delegate to others or bring to supervisor's attention.

- Composes responses on their own cognition to incoming correspondence to relay complex information.

- Prepares written directives of application of policy or procedural processes.

- Represents the supervisor and board of education through release and explanation of public and non-controversial information to the school staff, media and general public.

- Devises and installs work methods to implement rules, regulations and guidelines.

- Recommends policies and/or procedures for intra-departmental activities.

- Reviews and ensures accuracy of outgoing correspondence, records and/or reports of complex procedural or program activities.

- Participates in the recruiting and initial screening of prospective personnel.

Work is performed based on prior experience and by reference to technical manuals for difficult tasks, and the employee may be required to know one specialized system. Most complex and highly technical problems are resolved. Errors are expected to be resolved by the employee. The employee receives general direction, functions independently, and completed work is occasionally reviewed.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Diagnoses complex mechanical problems.
- Operates specialized power equipment to recondition motor assemblies.
- Conducts complete engine tune up using computerized equipment.
- Repairs and replaces brake drums.
- Straightens damaged frames, repairs and replaces differentials, drive shafts, front end and steering mechanisms.
- Repairs electrical systems to insure proper functioning.
- Repairs, adjusts or replaces starters, generators, transmissions and clutch assemblies.
- Performs North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles required inspection of buses and other school-owned vehicles.
- Assists and provides instruction to lower level mechanics.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Considerable knowledge of school bus and vehicles operation and maintenance.
- Considerable knowledge of the operating principles of internal combustion engines and other mechanical components of school buses and service vehicles.
- Considerable knowledge of the tools and equipment used in automotive repair shops.
- Considerable knowledge of the methods of adjusting and repairing the electrical and generating systems of automotive equipment.
- Ability to determine appropriate methods to repair improperly operating automotive equipment.
- Ability to comprehend and apply North Carolina Inspection Law.
- Skill to physically perform manual tasks associated with engine maintenance and vehicle body repair.
- Ability to read and comprehend technical materials.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Sufficient education and experience to demonstrate possession of the needed knowledge and abilities.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

Appropriate North Carolina driver's license for the weight and type of vehicles operated as required by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

TRANSPORTATION MECHANIC SUPERVISOR

Salary Grade 67

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class oversees the activities of the mechanics in the operation, repair and maintenance of the vehicles in the school transportation program. The work is performed in compliance with established maintenance practices and policies. The employee in this class is expected to resolve problems independently. Any errors made by this employee may result in unsafe buses and endanger students. The employee receives general supervision. The employee supervises mechanics, scheduling assignments and prioritizing work.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Schedules and assigns work to be done to other employees in the garage.
- Provides on the job instruction of repair and service practices for other employees.
- Participates in the screening, selection and discipline of garage employees.
- Tests and inspects completed work of other mechanics to assure compliance with safety and quality standards.
- Performs a variety of highly skilled automotive repair tasks.
- Maintains or oversees the maintenance of all or some portion of record keeping and reporting necessary to the transportation programs.
- Processes material and supply purchases.
- Investigates and reports accidents in which school transportation equipment is involved.
- Performs North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles required inspection of buses and other school-owned vehicles.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Thorough knowledge of school bus and vehicles operation and maintenance.
- Thorough knowledge of the operating principles of internal combustion engines and other mechanical components of school buses and service vehicles.
- Thorough knowledge of the tools and equipment used in vehicular repair shops.
- Ability to diagnose the causes of improperly operating electrical and generating systems of automotive vehicles and to make necessary repairs.
- Ability to comprehend and apply North Carolina Inspection Law.
- Ability to direct work of mechanics.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Considerable experience with vehicle operation, maintenance and repair and some technical automotive mechanic training are preferred.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

Appropriate North Carolina driver's license for the weight and type of vehicles operated as required by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

TRANSPORTATION DIRECTOR

Salary Grade Based on ADM

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class is responsible for the school transportation program in county school systems. Work is planned and directed through the interpretation and application of guidelines. The employee is expected to resolve most problems and to confer with the Superintendent or his designee on problems of policy. Errors may not be recognized internally and thus may result in great loss. Work is performed under general supervision. Administrative supervision is exercised over a number of skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled employees.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Develops procedures for vehicular service and repair.
- Prioritizes work to be accomplished.
- Develops work plans.
- Tests new equipment.
- Applies standards for vehicle replacement.
- Develops transportation routes.
- Arranges transportation for students with special needs.
- Conducts transportation studies relating to school consolidation or for improving existing transportation services.
- Investigates and reports accidents.
- Communicates with Department of Transportation on roads, bridges, signs, etc.
- Makes recommendations regarding hazardous road conditions.
- Develops and monitors budgets.
- Establishes an inventory system of parts.
- Directs the preparation and submission of all transportation reports.
- Reports on disposal of pollutants and other hazardous materials.
- Manages and recommends the selection, training, certification of fitness and competence, and termination of bus drivers.
- Collaborates with school principals in the recruitment of drivers and routing of buses.
- Recommends transportation personnel to be hired, disciplined, discharged or promoted.
- Ensures employees are provided needed training.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Considerable knowledge of vehicular service and repair principles and techniques.
- Considerable knowledge of routing.
- Working knowledge of record keeping and reporting techniques.
- Some knowledge of management principles.
- Skill in effective oral and written communication.
- Ability to gather and analyze data.
- Ability to plan and supervise the work of others.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Considerable experience in performing the full range of tasks associated with management of a transportation system.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

VEHICLE OPERATOR

Salary Grade 53

NATURE OF WORK

The employee operates small, medium-sized, or large capacity vehicles transporting a variety of cargo on established or special routes. Work is generally routine and repetitive with detailed instructions for any unusual assignments. Problems are referred to employee's immediate supervisor. Errors may result in untimely delivery of goods and services and even bodily injury. Employee receives direct supervision including specific delivery instructions and planned routes to follow.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

Drives small, medium-sized, or large capacity vehicles to transport materials to and from specific destinations.

Delivers equipment, materials, supplies, and food commodities to the schools and offices of the system.

Maintains vehicle log.

Prepares receipts and/or obtains signatures for deliveries.

May load and unload vehicle.

May maintain telephone contact with supervisor.

Inspects vehicle equipment and supplies such as tires, lights, brakes, gas, oil, and water, and requests service and repairs as needed.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

Working knowledge of the vehicle assigned.

Skill in driving, such as turning, backing, parking, and maneuvering unusual terrain.

Ability to load and unload cargo at destination.

Ability to follow oral or written instructions.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Some experience operating delivery-type vehicles.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

Appropriate North Carolina driver's license for the weight and type of vehicles operated as required by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

WAREHOUSE MANAGER I

Salary Grade 61

NATURE OF WORK

Employee performs work involving storage and record keeping in a storage warehouse and oversees the work of any other employees in the warehouse. Tasks require some physical labor in the loading and unloading of goods received and to be delivered. Work is directed by precedents, and detailed instructions are provided for new and unusual assignments. Simple problems are resolved by the employee with more complex problems referred to supervisor. Errors should be revealed during periodic inventory or through occasional observation and may result in low inventory and budget problems. Employee works independently with limited supervision.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Oversees deliveries and pickups to insure quality and quantity of products.
- Loads and unloads materials and supplies using available hand trucks and front-end loaders.
- Records deliveries and pickups.
- Maintains inventory records and tracking system.
- Determines appropriate places for storage.
- Rotates stock as needed.
- Monitors activities in warehouse to insure proper recording of outgoing materials.
- Adjusts inventory levels to reflect receipts and disbursements.

KNOWLEDGES, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Working knowledge of inventory control and warehousing procedures.
- Some knowledge of volatile materials storage.
- Ability to load and unload materials and supplies.
- Ability to manage an inventory system.
- Skill in simple computations.
- Ability to comprehend procedures.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

- Some experience with inventory control procedures.

Salary Grade 63

NATURE OF WORK

Employee performs work involving receiving, storing, inventorying, and issuing materials and supplies for a central storage warehouse having a large volume of materials and supplies and distribution activities. Employee oversees the work of other employees in the warehouse. Tasks require some physical labor in the loading and unloading of goods received and to be delivered. Work is routine and directed by established procedures with instructions provided for new and unusual assignments. Simple problems are resolved by the employee with more complex problems referred to supervisor. Errors should be revealed during periodic inventory or through occasional observation and may result in low inventory and budget problems. Employee works independently with general supervision.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Oversees deliveries and pickups to insure quality and quantity of products.
- Checks perpetual inventory regularly.
- Recommends purchases to supervisor.
- Loads and unloads materials and supplies using available hand trucks and front-end loaders.
- Records deliveries and pickups.
- Maintains inventory records and tracking system.
- Determines appropriate places for storage.
- Rotates stock as needed.
- Monitors activities in warehouse to insure proper recording of outgoing materials.
- Adjusts inventory levels to reflect receipts and disbursements.
- Assigns work to other employees.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Considerable knowledge of inventory control and warehousing procedures.
- Some knowledge of volatile materials storage
- Ability to load and unload materials and supplies
- Ability to manage and inventory system.
- Ability to comprehend procedures.
- Ability to provide leadership.
- Ability to assign and direct the work of employees.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Some experience with inventory control procedures. Some experience in warehouse management.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

WASTE WATER PLANT OPERATOR I

Salary Grade 57

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class operates an open sand filter waste water plant and is responsible for keeping within permit discharge limits. The employee routinely monitors the flow of waste water and chemical levels. When problems arise, an employee in this class will introduce procedural changes within industry standards and regulatory requirements. Errors may have serious consequences to the health and well being of the school and community. Errors may require costly procedures if water supplies are shut down. An employee in this class receives general supervision.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Monitors and adjusts flow of waste water into sand to allow proper percolation.
- Observes operation of pumps and gauges.
- Checks sand bed.
- Rakes sand.
- Checks and fills chlorinator.
- Collects waste water samples as often as required for sand filter waste water plants.
- Sends samples to laboratory for analysis.
- Maintains records.
- Prepares reports.
- Reads and records water pressure.
- Performs minor maintenance on equipment.
- Oversees maintenance of grounds surrounding waste water plant.
- May be called for service on irregular hours.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Working knowledge of the process involved in the treatment of waste water.
- Working knowledge of the machines and equipment used to pump and filter waste water.
- Working knowledge of laboratory techniques used in drawing and shipping waste water samples.
- Working knowledge of Federal, State, and local laws, regulations, and policies regarding waste water treatment.
- Skill in handling waste water samples for laboratory testing.
- Skill in care of waste water treatment and monitoring equipment.
- Ability to maintain accurate records.
- Ability to recognize adverse waste water conditions and make immediate corrections.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Experience or education in waste water plant operations.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

Licensure as required by State law.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

WASTE WATER PLANT OPERATOR II

Salary Grade 62

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class operates a low pressure pipe waste water treatment plant and maintains operations within permit discharge limits. The employee uses mechanical and computerized gauges and equipment to monitor waste water. When problems arise, an employee in this class will introduce and make simple adjustments to equipment and make procedural changes within industry standards and regulatory requirements. Errors may have serious consequences to the health and well being of the school and community, and errors may require costly procedures if water supplies are shut down. Employees in this class receive general supervision.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Reads gauges to determine pressure and flow of waste water.
- Times release of water into fields according to soil type and condition.
- Monitors waste water pressure to see that fields receive appropriate amounts of waste water.
- Checks pumps, timers, and valves.
- Adjusts pressure and flow of waste water using computerized control system.
- Maintains records.
- Prepares reports.
- Observes operation of pumps and gauges.
- Performs minor maintenance on equipment.
- Walks filter fields to check for water seepage.
- Oversees maintenance of grounds surrounding waste water plant.
- Responds to service calls at all hours.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

Working knowledge of the process involved in the treatment of waste water, including computerized waste water management systems.

Working knowledge of the machines and equipment used to pump and filter waste water and regulate water flow.

Working knowledge of laboratory techniques used in drawing and shipping waste water samples.

Working knowledge of Federal, State, and local laws, regulations, and policies regarding waste water treatment.

Skill in handling waste water samples for laboratory testing.

Skill in care of waste water treatment and monitoring equipment.

Ability to operate a computerized water treatment system.

Ability to maintain accurate records.

Ability to prepare reports.

Ability to recognize adverse waste water conditions and make immediate corrections.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Experience or education in waste water plant operations.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

Licensure as required by State law.

WASTE WATER PLANT OPERATOR III

Salary Grade 70

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class operates a package waste water treatment plant. Employees in this class are responsible for efficient operation of plants within waste water quality standards during their shifts. When problems arise, an employee in this class will correct the computerized system and introduce procedural changes within industry standards and regulatory requirements. Errors may have serious consequences to the health and well being of the school and community, and errors may require costly procedures if water supplies are shut down. Employees in this class receive general supervision.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Performs chemical analysis to determine bacterial count.
- Maintains bacterial count at level sufficient to treat waste products.
- Reads gauges to determine pressure and flow of waste water.
- Sets timers to transfer treated product into tanks or streams.
- Monitors waste water pressure.
- Adjusts pressure and flow of waste water using computerized control system.
- Sends samples to laboratory for analysis.
- Maintains records.
- Prepares reports.
- Observes operation of pumps and gauges.
- Performs minor maintenance on equipment.
- Oversees maintenance of grounds surrounding waste water plant.

WELDER I

Salary Grade 61

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class uses acetylene and electric arc welding equipment to fuse metal parts of equipment and machinery. Workers make simple metal articles and repair metal parts of machines and equipment. Work is performed following general instructions and according to established trade and shop practices. The worker exercises some discretion regarding specific procedures and work methods to complete a given assignment. When problems arise, an employee in this class will initiate minor changes and refer complex problems to a higher level employee. Some errors are revealed by inspection; however, those discovered after machinery or equipment is returned to use can result in risk to those using the repaired items and considerable loss of time. Limited supervision is given to employees in this class.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

Examines materials to be repaired to determine the strength and heating properties of parent metals and alloys.

Studies simple sketches to determine needed repairs or construction.

Determines the type of equipment and amount of heat needed to make a repair or construct a metal article.

Prepares items for welding by disassembling parts and acquiring needed parts.

Lays out, cuts, and fits material for welding.

Uses welding equipment to join metal pieces.

Uses welding equipment to burn or cut through metal.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

Some knowledge of welding principles and methods.

Some knowledge of the heating properties of parent metals and alloys.

Skill in the operation of welding equipment and tools.

Ability to follow oral or written directions.

Ability to work from simple sketches or drawings.

Ability to produce replacements for broken metal items.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Some training or experience in the use of acetylene or electric arc welding equipment.

This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). Consequently, it is not to be perceived as a position (job) description or as identification of essential functions as required by ADA.

WELDER II

Salary Grade 63

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class uses welding equipment to fuse metal parts of machinery and equipment. The employee repairs, constructs, and assembles metal parts in situations where weld strength is critical. Work is performed according to established trade and shop practices, with the worker exercising considerable discretion regarding the procedures and work methods. When problems arise, the employee will make choices among established practices and procedures to resolve the problem. Most errors will be discovered by the worker while the work is in process; however, errors discovered after machinery or equipment is returned to use can result in serious risk to those using the repaired items and considerable loss of time. Employees in this class receive general supervision.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Examines materials to be repaired to determine the strength and heating properties of parent metals and alloys.
- Studies blueprints and sketches to determine needed repairs or construction.
- Determines the type of equipment and amount of heat needed to make a repair or construct a metal article.
- Prepares items for welding by disassembling parts and acquiring needed parts.
- Examines high pressure pipes to determine safety precautions needed for the task.
- Lays out, cuts, and fits material, including high pressure pipe, for welding.
- Removes defective parts.
- Uses welding equipment to join metal pieces.
- Uses welding equipment to burn or cut through metal.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Working knowledge of the principles and methods of welding.
- Working knowledge of the properties of high pressure steam boilers and lines.
- Working knowledge of the heating properties of parent metals and alloys.
- Skill in the operation of welding equipment and tools of the welding trade.
- Ability to follow oral or written directions.
- Ability to work from blueprints.
- Ability to produce replacements for broken articles.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Training or experience in the use of welding equipment.

*This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. ## WELDER CREW LEADER

Salary Grade 65

NATURE OF WORK

An employee in this class uses welding equipment to fuse metal parts of machinery and equipment. The employee repairs, constructs, and assembles metal parts; and directs the work of other welders on the site. Work is performed according to established trade and shop practices, with the worker exercising considerable discretion regarding the procedures and work methods. When problems arise, an employee in this class will initiate changes and make choices among established practices and procedures, and other welders will refer problems to this worker. Errors usually are discovered by the worker while work is in progress; however, errors discovered after machinery or equipment is returned to use can result in serious risk to those using the repaired items and considerable loss of time. Employees in this class receive general supervision.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

Examines materials to be repaired to determine the strength and heating properties of parent metals and alloys.

Examines high pressure pipes to determine safety precautions needed for the task.

Determines the type of equipment and amount of heat needed to make a repair or construct a metal support.

Constructs needed parts or pieces.

Prepares equipment for welding by disassembling parts and acquiring needed parts.

Lays out, cuts, and fits material, including high pressure pipe, for welding.

Removes defective parts, including high pressure steam piping.

Joins metal pieces by using welding equipment.

Assigns work to other welders on the crew.

Reviews the work of other welders, upon completion, for quality and correctness.

Reports outstanding or unsatisfactory work and behavior to supervisors.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

Considerable knowledge of the principles and methods of the welding trade.

Considerable knowledge of the properties of high pressure steam boilers and lines.

Considerable knowledge of the heating properties of parent metals and alloys.

Skill in the operation of welding equipment and other tools of the welding trade.

Ability to follow oral or written directions.

Ability to give oral or written assignments.

Ability to work from blueprints.

Ability to produce simple sketches or drawings.

Ability to produce replacement parts for broken parts.

Ability to direct the work of other welders on the work site.

SUGGESTED TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE

Considerable training or experience in the use of welding equipment.

Some experience working with people from diverse backgrounds.

*This specification has been designed to represent the general nature and level of work found in positions in this class. As such, it is not intended to contain all of the duties and qualifications required of an employee in a single position (job). ## WIDE AREA NETWORK (WAN) ENGINEER

Salary Grade 76

NATURE OF WORK

An individual in this class is responsible for designing and implementing wide area networks in a local school agency. Employee supervises the installation, maintenance, and operation of a wide area network and associated computer hardware and software. Employee coordinates with the Director of Technology the evaluation of school system networking needs and recommends improvements and modifications to existing infrastructure. Employee diagnoses and resolves complex wide and local area network issues.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF WORK

- Designs and implements wide area networks including network servers, hubs, routers, workstations and other peripheral devices.

- Installs and configures wide area network servers for email, Internet, and Proxy services.

- Installs and configures all necessary telecommunication devices.

- Operates and maintains wide area networks, tracks significant problems, monitors performance, and performs upgrades to hardware and software as required.

- Installs or modifies existing installations of networked computer hardware, software, and other components.

- Participates in long- and short-range technology planning.

- Trains technical staff at the system and building level to follow proper operating procedures necessary to maintain the integrity of the network.

- Maintains documentation regarding network configurations, operating procedures, and service records relating to network hardware and software.

- Assists in developing training for building level faculty and staff in the proper operation of the wide and local area networks.

- Attends classes, seminars, conferences and reviews professional literature to enhance knowledge of trends and developments related to wide and local area network systems.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Strong knowledge of wide and local area network architecture.

- Strong knowledge of computers and related technologies.

- Strong knowledge of infrastructure requirements and components of wide and local area networks.

- Strong knowledge of network operating systems.

- Considerable knowledge of wide and local area network protocols and diagnostic tools.

- Ability to supervise technical support staff.

- Ability to communicate effectively with all levels of technology users.
